THE LOCATION

Garraf Massif, a wine territory

A natural park with unique terrain, ranging from sea level to 593 meters, featuring vineyards integrated into the forest on limestone soil. Massive rock formations quickly emerge. Its richness in microelements is conveyed to the grapes, resulting in wines with pronounced mineral notes and a limestone character.

A land with low water retention and abundant sunlight, producing highly concentrated and expressive grapes, resulting in varietal and flavorful wines.

The influence of the sea breeze also makes its presence felt. Its thermoregulatory effect on the vineyard promotes a more prolonged and stable maturation, enhancing the concentration of sugars and acids. Its essence imparts a slightly saline touch to the wines.

This is the essence of our local wines.
